THE SULLIVAN DIVORCE CASE

Manning Worried Greatly by Office Seekers—Eleven Persons Drowned by a Waterspout in Nebraska—Sporting Notes.

NEW YORK, May [illegible].—[illegible] the City of Rome [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] French fishermen, only two [illegible] were saved.

Captain J. D. Munro [illegible] the City of Rome was too much broken up by the [illegible] to give more than a brief statement. The steamer left Liverpool May [illegible]. The weather was fine until Monday, when after a bright morning, a dense fog came on. It was so thick that from the bow of the boat it was difficult to see [illegible]. A great many icebergs were passed between 10 A. M. and 1 P. M. fifty-eight were counted [illegible] large and small. The captain asserts that the vessel's pace was slackened to half speed [illegible] fully realizing the danger. Every precaution was taken. Bells were rung and whistles sounded [illegible].

At 4:10 A. M. when the fog was thick, [illegible] forward saw the [illegible] in the mist but twenty feet away. The bark lay at anchor. [illegible] was not ringing, [illegible] the vessel [illegible] bark Jeanne [illegible].

People of the City of Rome saw a few hundred Frenchmen in fishermen's blouses rushing frantically forward on the bark. The bark was lifted with their affrighted faces [illegible] from the deck of the [illegible] sending steamers [illegible] went out of sight. A few [illegible] and four more. [illegible] Life buoys were thrown to them, and as soon as possible the steamer was stopped and [illegible] where the bark had been, and two boats were [illegible]. By this time one of the four [illegible] sank, two were clinging to buoys and the third floated alongside the steamer, supporting himself by a spar. The fourth officer, Arthur G. [illegible], [illegible] a rope round his body and taking another rope had himself lowered to the man. [illegible] succeeded in getting a loop [illegible] the Frenchman's arms and pulled him half way up the side, [illegible] but when the loop slipped over his head and he fell back into the water and sank out of sight. This man was the captain of the George [illegible].

Meantime [illegible] and [illegible] were picked up by the boats.

THE CAPTAIN BLAMED.

Steerage passengers who landed from the City of Rome at Castle Garden declared with one accord that the steamer was making at least fourteen knots an hour when the collision occurred.

Every one on the George Jeanne except Marie was below. Marie sat near the stern keeping a lookout. He heard the whistle of the City of Rome for eight minutes before she appeared. He rang the bell of the George Jeanne and kept it up and was ringing it when the City of Rome crashed into her. The [illegible] fishermen were all married.

Charles Morgan, a steerage passenger, declared that officers on the bridge were watching passengers leaping and jumping, and were taking [illegible] a proper lookout. The official log of the steamer states that on Monday the steamer ran 1 forty-eight miles. A memorial was presented to Captain Munro, signed by the cabin passengers, praising his efforts to save the survivors.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

ELEVEN PERSONS DROWNED BY A WATERSPOUT.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 28.—A special to the State Journal from Indianola gives the following particulars of the bursting of a waterspout. Tuesday evening a party of seventeen Bohemians en route to Dundy creek camped in [illegible] canyon half a mile from the Republican river, nine miles west of this place. At dark a heavy rain set in and about 10 o'clock a waterspout burst a short distance above, flooding the heretofore dry canyon to the depth of fifteen feet. This came down the canyon in [illegible] rising a foot or two higher than the preceding one. The party were asleep in their wagons. The one nearest the bed of the stream was occupied by John Marck, wife and son, the center one by John Osmer and four children and two other children, and the third was occupied by Joseph Havelle, wife and three children. When the flood struck the wagons Havelle was first to arouse. He jumped up, grasped the wagon tongue and attempted to pull the wagon out of the water. Fresh waves struck him, wresting the tongue from his grasp and carrying the wagon out into the raging flood.

Osmer had already jumped out of his wagon and succeeded in getting four of his children to shore, but before he could return to the wagon it was carried down in the seething canyon.

The first Marck knew of the situation he was sailing down stream. Seeing a tree just ahead he took his wife and son, clung to him and he would try to catch the tree. He succeeded, but the sudden stop shook off his wife and son and they went down in the flood. Marck climbed in the tree from which he was rescued in the morning.

Havelle and Osmer finally found the residence of Simon Jennings, half a mile off, and made known what had happened. Word was sent to Indianola, and by noon 100 people were searching for the bodies. Up to to-night but two of the eleven bodies missing had been found.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—At the afternoon session of the Presbyterian assembly Rev. S. B. Bell offered the following, which was referred to the committee on church polity:

Resolved, That the cry for more men to employ does not agree with the cry from our men to find employment.

Resolved, That if our present system is a failure in that direction, then we must adopt another that will not be.

Resolutions of sympathy with the free church of France were adopted, and also one appointing Rev. George F. Moore to represent this assembly at the next meeting of the synod of that church at St. Foy la Grande, September 23 next.

The report of the committee on church erection shows that the total amount received during the year from all sources is $120,696. Three hundred and ninety-eight applications for aid have been made amounting to $221,60. Two hundred and forty of these have been entertained and the amount of $106 [illegible] given. The board was authorized to receive a mortgage held on a church in the south in order that they may unite with one in the same city connected with the southern Presbyterian assembly, and sell their property, the proceeds of the sale to apply to the enlargement of the church with which they unite.

The committee on judicial commissions reported and the overture was adopted by a vote of 186 to 1. This gives the assembly and each synod the right to appoint commissioners, whose decisions shall be final, except in matters of law or doctrine, which must be referred to the general assembly.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMITTEE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois, Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland and Warren Miller of New York, the United States senate committee on inter-state commerce, assembled this morning. Mr. Mink, representative of the Clyde Steamship Company, read a long statement to the committee in which he said it was no more possible to fix rates of transportation than prices of manufacture. He said it was more practically opposed to rebates and thought they should be prohibited by law, provided the law was so framed that a horse and cart could not be driven through it. By that he means to show that a railroad could not pay clerks a commission and salaries in order to get business. He did not think that a federal law establishing uniformity of rates on all roads pro-rata per mile would be practicable. The remainder of the day was spent in hearing statements from different classes of shippers on their grievances and the remedies which they had to suggest.

KENTUCKY'S TOBACCO CROP.

LOUISVILLE, May 28.—Notwithstanding the misinformation conveyed in a late report from this city, the outlook for the tobacco crop of 1885 does not present a single discouraging feature. The crop is not late in starting. The plants, though the buds were belated somewhat by a tardy spring, are in a [illegible] state of forwardness, and in most sections if not all there is an abundant supply. There is no danger whatever, if other conditions are favorable, that the area will be reduced by a deficiency of plants, and the comparative dues of farm products afford very good assurance that by choice at least the general area of the tobacco crop will not be curtailed. It is claimed that in part of the blue grass section tobacco will be partly replaced by other crops, notably hemp, but this will not be in excess, if it is continued, a general condition may not prevail for excessive planting, but there is not the slightest [illegible] at present to interrupt planting.

He has accepted an extremely responsible position as chief book-keeper and cashier for prison contractors, two extensive companies, the Burlington Manufacturing Company and E. R. Brainerd & Co., for whom he has worked during his incarceration. In addition he takes charge of the office of Kraft & Gross's wire drawing and barb-wire factory. He has made himself so useful to these companies, which are all connected, that they cannot do without him. Angell

FISHING BARK LOST.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The steamship City of Rome, which arrived here to-day, reports that on May [illegible], during a dense fog, she collided and sank the French fishing bark George Johanna, which was lying at anchor. She rescued two of the crew. Of the [illegible], twenty-two were lost.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR

A BLOODY FEUD.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—A feud is the state of affairs reported from Knott county, Kentucky. In March last, T. C. Jones, a respected citizen, saved the life of one Frank Salyers, who was threatened by a thieving band of desperadoes, but subsequently they murdered and robbed Salyers. They then tried to kill Jones, and to escape punishment Jones gathered his friends, and thus the two factions have existed. May 19th five of Jones' friends met six of the other party under a bowling hall and four men were mortally wounded. The civil authorities caused warrants to be issued for the arrest of the living members of the Jones party, and on Tuesday three were arrested. They were to be taken to Knott county yesterday, when it was feared that a collision of the Jones and Hall factions would occur. Another account represents the band of Hall men in a house, surrounded by Jones men and unable to get away.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FOR THE BUZZARDS.

HONEYBROOK, Pa., May 28.—A number of persons from here and Thumeda drove to Sassafras creek and in a little log church organized a Sunday school for the benefit of the outlawed Buzzards. Their friends and others and Mrs. Abe Buzzard and her three children were guests at Sunday's school.

THE FIRE RECORD

A FIRE IN WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, May 28.—Indefinite particulars are received here of a disastrous fire at Medford, this state. It is believed the business portion of the place, together with a large quantity of lumber, has been destroyed. Among the buildings destroyed was the telegraph office, so that details are not to be had. No figures are given as to the probable loss or insurance.

Late to-night it is learned from Medford that the losses by to-day's fire are fully $200,000, with very light insurance. There are many sufferers.

VICTORIA'S SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Denver Republican: A hot blooded Kentuckian complained that Blackburn was refused the collectorship of internal revenue because he was a rebel, to which Secretary Manning responded that the Kentucky gentleman was mistaken. "Well, I've heard that men connected with your department have called [illegible] and [illegible]," said the irate Kentuckian. "There must be some mistake," said Mr. Manning kindly. "I have never heard anyone associated with me call Mr. Blackburn a rebel." The only remark that I have heard that could be construed as a slight upon him was that he is a dead rebel.

Washington dispatch to St. Louis Globe-Democrat: [illegible] the talk about appointments was very plain. Mr. Cleveland first [illegible] they [illegible] listened to their [illegible] without reply. The president told us that the democratic party must be conservative in these matters, said one of the Missouri senators to-day. I don't understand that we carried the last election on a possum policy. We made a straightout fight and won. Whose was the victory? This thing of keeping republicans in office because they might feel hurt if removed may be the sort of politics they have up in heaven, but it won't do on earth.

ROSECRANS STRONGLY ENDORSED

Southern Outrages not Endorsed—Affairs in the Old World—Precautions Taken Against Cholera—Emperor William Ill.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—[illegible] Postmaster-General Vilas [illegible] since March [illegible] Assistant Attorney-General Bryant of the post office department [illegible] complete the statutes bearing upon this subject and is of the opinion that the postmaster-general has decided that while the matter of construction is not free from doubt and he is not absolute, he is of opinion that the construction of Postmaster-General Gresham was right in the premises; yet the rule having been followed for two years and something over $6,000 having been appropriated by congress for the payment of salaries on that basis, he does not deem it proper on the strength of his own individual opinion, even if it were diverse, to change that ruling. The remedy of the claimants will be through the [illegible] legislation by congress.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—Special.—[illegible] from San Francisco [illegible] urging General Rosecrans' appointment as collector of the port. [illegible] copy of the memorial was for the president and it was sent to the White house immediately. The signatures to the document are said to be those of the most prominent merchants of San Francisco. Many of them are republicans, and they represent an aggregate capital of [illegible] $80,000,000. Potter Heney and Rosecrans called on the president to-day, and Rosecrans' appointment was probably discussed. The office of register of the treasury, which he held, [illegible] it is understood that [illegible] the tender of the position was made to his appointment as collector of the port. Rosecrans would accept any other [illegible] that his friends [illegible] think his [illegible] very good.

SOUTHERN OUTRAGES NOT ENDORSED.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Postmaster-General Vilas to-day requested the resignation of [illegible] Mead, who was recently appointed postmaster at Hazlehurst, Mississippi. The explanation of the action of the postmaster-general is that since the appointment of Mr. Mead it has come to the knowledge of the department that he presided over a meeting which was held in Hazlehurst just after the November elections in 1884, and subsequent to the killing of Matthews, republican postmaster, by [illegible] Wheeler, on election day, in which the persons participating took sides by resolution with Wheeler and served a notice on the friends of Matthews that they intended to stand by Wheeler in case they sought revenge for the killing of Matthews. It is understood that this is in conformity with the determination of the administration not to allow itself to become involved in any political quarrels which have occurred in the south.

THE CONGRESSIONAL LIBRARY.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Ten additional crypts running under the [illegible] have recently been fitted up beneath the rotunda of the capitol and assigned to Librarian Spofford for use of the congressional library. The crowded condition of the library has not, however, been materially benefited, for the increase in the amount of material requiring shelf room in storing has much more than kept pace with the additional space provided. It is probable that [illegible] subterranean apartments to be created by the substitution of architectural earth terraces will be utilized for the storage of books. Devices of this kind, while affording temporary relief, are the merest makeshifts. The library has more than twice outgrown its original accommodations. It contains nearly 500,000 bound volumes, 40,000 pieces of music, nearly 200,000 pamphlets and between 100,000 and 150,000 specimens of graphic art.

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Collections of internal revenue for the first ten months of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, as compared with the collections during the corresponding period of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1884, were as follows: From spirits, 1884, $[illegible]; 1885, $[illegible]; a decrease of $[illegible]. From tobacco, 1884, $[illegible]; 1885, $[illegible]; an increase of $[illegible]. From fermented liquors, 1884, $14,[illegible]; 1885, $14,[illegible]; an increase of $[illegible]. From miscellaneous, 1884, $[illegible]; 1885, $226,802; a decrease of $[illegible]. Aggregate receipts, 1884, $[illegible]; 1885, $[illegible]; a decrease of $[illegible]. Aggregate receipts for April, 1885, were $1,141,[illegible] less than during the same month of 1884.

THE CABINET MEETING.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—There was a full attendance at the cabinet meeting to-day, including Secretary Lamar, who has partially recovered from his recent attack of sickness. The question of authorizing the continuance of the world's exposition at New Orleans was again considered. The result is shown in a telegram sent by the president to Senator Gibson later in the day, of which the following is a copy: "The question of reopening the exposition has been considered by the cabinet, and they are unanimously of the opinion that there is no warrant of law for it, and that it would be inexpedient on other grounds."

A NEW APPOINTEE SCORED.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—Special.—It is said that the president is making inquiries regarding A. A. Ellis, who was appointed collector of internal revenue for the first California district a few days ago, which may result in that gentleman's commission being withheld. Since his appointment it was rumored that the president has received such information regarding the lack of ability or proper qualifications of the new appointee for the place as to lead him to believe that he may have been imposed upon by his friends, and the inquiries he is making are to satisfy himself as to that fact.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary Endicott, president of the board recently appointed to examine and report upon the defenses and fortifications of the United States, has called a meeting of the board to be held at the war department June [illegible]. The president will leave Washington for New York to-morrow night, and be accompanied by Secretaries Whitney and Endicott and Postmaster-General Vilas, and by Secretary Lamar, in case his health will permit. The party expect to return Sunday.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA.

NEW YORK, May 28.—[Special.]—A London special to the Mail and Express says: The French government is determined to leave nothing undone that will prevent a repetition of last summer's terrible cholera scourge. Dr. Proust has been sent to Marseilles to investigate the matter. The general opinion in Paris and London seems to be that it would greatly enhance the safety of Europe if the French would expend large sums on sanitation in those filthy towns which are standing invitations to plague, and less on medicines. Efforts have been made to improve the condition of both Marseilles and Toulon since last year, but the prefects have labored under the disadvantage of inefficient means and lack of public interest and assistance in the work.

The Spanish government is also on the defensive, but its action has taken a new phase. Further inoculation has been prohibited on the ground that some of the persons who were subjected to it died. Dr. Ferran, however, who introduced the system and who has inoculated persons by [illegible] persons, denies this, asking that [illegible] it be tested. He is of the opinion that the government commission appointed to investigate the subject will report in favor of inoculation. It does not think [illegible] will leave Spain and visit London and [illegible] to try to make his system [illegible] government [illegible].

THE AFGHAN FRONTIER SETTLEMENT.

LONDON, May 28.—The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent says: Following is the exact state of the Afghan frontier negotiations at the present time. The Ameer submits to the English a [illegible] Zulfikar. The [illegible] will [illegible] rest with the Zulfikar pass shall form the boundary [illegible] the Afghan state. Russia insists that Maruchak [illegible] English. England objects, and [illegible] retention of Maruchak. [illegible] question of [illegible] is now [illegible].

STANLEY GETS A BREAKFAST.

LONDON, May 28.—The Baptist missionary society gave a breakfast to-day to Stanley, the African explorer, in which [illegible] Stanley was thanked for [illegible] to the Christianization of Africa for his helping missionaries to secure stations to extend the influences of their teachings. Stanley in his reply said he was glad to have had an opportunity of helping missionaries and of obtaining in return their help to teach the natives. Formerly he [illegible] understood the missionaries. However, since he had seen Livingstone he recognized in him the type of a noble and spiritual manhood. The real work of a missionary was hard, his privations great, and his worldly reward small. In conclusion Stanley expressed the hope that in Congo [illegible] would soon be [illegible] up [illegible] and [illegible] out the kind of men they sent out as missionaries to Africa. Do not, he said, [illegible] with anything but [illegible] the practical life necessary to success the same as [illegible] to [illegible] long [illegible] missionaries [illegible]. The death blow in Gordon's [illegible] would have been dealt [illegible] would have [illegible] Africa.

ENGLAND'S NAVAL RESERVE.

LONDON, May 28.—During the British naval [illegible] at [illegible], England, and in Bantry Bay, Ireland, Admiral Hornby, who has been appointed to the command of the fleet of fifteen ironclads which will take part in the demonstration, will [illegible] Lord [illegible] for service in a foreign station [illegible] to be prepared for any [illegible] for the departure [illegible].

THE WEST INDIES.

FILIBUSTERS IN CUBA.

HAVANA, May 28.—Special.—The Heraldo [illegible] unexpected announcement of the landing of a filibustering expedition on this island has excited the entire population. It is supposed to have been organized at San Domingo, whence it proceeded to the south side of the province of Santiago de Cuba, in the very heart of the sugar producing district of Guantanamo. The planters [illegible] invaded localities already consider themselves completely ruined. [illegible] Sanchez [illegible] indiscriminate use of the torch as the most powerful weapon, and destruction follows in the wake of his march. Several [illegible] troops immediately started in pursuit and overtook the filibustering [illegible] them, killing [illegible]. Among the articles captured are printed proclamations signed by Sanchez and Varona, urging the natives to join the invaders in expelling the Spanish from Cuba. Telegrams have been sent by the native leaders here to the ministers at Madrid asking for a settlement of the Cuban debt [illegible] of the budget of $45,000,000.

GERMANY

THE EMPEROR GETTING BETTER.

BERLIN, May 28.—The emperor was somewhat worse this morning. His intestinal trouble became more serious yesterday afternoon and he passed a restless night. The imperial family has been summoned from Potsdam.

An official bulletin issued this afternoon announces that since the last bulletin the emperor has obtained several hours' much needed repose and that his condition is greatly improved.

PARIS, May 28.—It is reported here that Emperor William is more seriously ill than will be admitted officially. The doctors in attendance are said to be quite uneasy in manner.

BERLIN, May 28.—Emperor William is now well enough to receive a few visitors and transact business, but not to drive out.

SOUTH AMERICA

CACERES' FORCES COMPLETELY ROUTED.

LIMA, May 28.—A telegram from General Mas announces the complete defeat of Caceres at [illegible] by Iglesias' forces under command of Colonel Vessup. A great number of prisoners were taken. Caceres himself is wounded and has returned to Pucara. General Mas is in pursuit. This decisive victory is expected to prevent any further revolt [illegible] and effect the complete pacification of the [illegible].

FRANCE

NATIONAL AND THE COMMUNISTS.

PARIS, May 28.—In consequence of reports received from the prefects of various provinces, the republican government has decided to introduce into the chambers a bill prohibiting the display anywhere in France of all emblems except the national tricolor and the national flags of foreign nations.

CONFEDERATES IN THE SADDLE.

Partiality of the Administration for those who Fought the Flag

Philadelphia Press.

The following is a list of the officers and emoluments which have been conferred by the democratic administration upon Confederate and Union soldiers. It does not include the great number of appointments which have been given to civilians in the south or in the north. The disparity in the favors which have been given to the soldiers of the two armies will be apparent to anyone:

J. D. C. Lyman of Mississippi, [illegible] of interior.	Lieutenant-colonel in a Mississippi regiment and Confederate minister to Russia.
Augustus H. Garland of Arkansas, attorney general.	Served in both branches of the Confederate congress.
Henry R. Jackson of Georgia, minister to Mexico.	Brigadier general in Confederate service.
Alexander R. Lawton of Georgia, minister to Russia (since declined, disabilities never removed).	Brigadier general and quartermaster general in the rebel army.
J. J. Jarvis of North Carolina, minister to Brazil.	Captain in Confederate army.
Anthony M. Keiley of Virginia, minister to Austria.	Warm friend of Jeff Davis, having written a book praising him.
Eugene Higgins of Maryland, chief of the appointment division of the Treasury Department.	Deputy provost marshal in Richmond, Va., under Winder, whose cruelty to the Union prisoners is a matter of history.
J. D. C. Atkins of Tennessee, commissioner of internal affairs.	Served in the rebel army and in the Confederate congress.
James D. Porter of Tennessee, assistant secretary of state.	Adjutant general on rebel General Cheatham's staff.
General Joseph E. Johnston of Virginia, commissioner of railroads.	Division commander in Confederate army.
Henry Muldrow, assistant secretary of interior.	Colonel of [illegible] cavalry.

[illegible] M. [illegible] of South Carolina, consul to Melbourne.	[illegible] to Captain Semmes.
Ernest Moore, consul to Nagasaki (commission withdrawn).	Confederate soldier and declared in Washington recently that he was proud of having been a rebel.
James Blackburn of Kentucky, appointed collector of internal revenue but appointment canceled.	Served in rebel army and wrote that he wanted to see Union blood flow deep enough to swim his horse in.
Charles M. Shelley of Alabama, fourth auditor of the treasury.	Brigadier general in confederate army.
UNION SOLDIERS HONORED WITH OFFICE.

MORRISON'S LAMENT

(Not by Tennyson)

Howl, Howl, Howl,

For the [illegible] Democracy!

And I would that my throat had room for

The groans that arise in me.

O, well for that Randall bloke

That he laughs o'er his spoils so gay;

O, well for the Dana man

That he sings like a June bug to-day.

And the free trade ship moves on

Thro its horizontal bay;

I sigh for another little chance

Like the one I fooled away.

Howl, howl, howl,

And groan most vigorously;

For the hope of being a Senator

Will never come back to me.

The Splendor of Dress

And the artificial effects of cosmetics, no matter how deftly applied, can never make beautiful or attractive one who is subject to emaciation, nervous debility, or any form of female weakness. These must be reached by inward application, and not by outward attempts at concealment, and the ladies may take hope from the fact that thousands of their sisters have made themselves more radiant and beautiful by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" than they could ever hope to do by the aid of the appliances of the toilet.

THE WEST.

The Murderous Apaches Still on the Warpath.

MANY PERSONS MASSACRED.

Death Under Suspicious Circumstances—Another Marriage Contract Case—Shooting Scrape near Spokane Falls

SILVER CITY, N. M., May 28.—Apaches are making bloody trails through this section. It is now thought three or four different bands are depredating and murdering in as many sections of the territory. The hostiles are thought to number about 80. Four chiefs are with them—Geronimo, Nana, Natcha and Chihuahua. This morning five dead bodies of a Mexican family consisting of man, wife and three children killed five miles from here were brought in and buried. One other is known to have been killed in the same vicinity and one badly wounded. A party which left here last night, returned to-day for supplies and fresh horses. They report numerous ranches on Bear creek sacked, horses stolen and cattle killed. The Indian trail was followed from there to the Pinos Altos foot hills, where the last night's killing was done. Indians approached within four miles of Fort Bayard. Three troops of cavalry are now in pursuit. It is reported that the Indians are doubling back on the old trail in the direction of Bear creek. This band number seventy-five to eighty. Another band on the Gila river drove off 1?0 head of horses. Two couriers are missing.

Three additional prospectors were killed on the south fork of the White Water, and one named Joe Bunting, of Magollon creek. The latter made a brave fight and killed two Indians, one a chief. The fight was witnessed by Bunting's partner just coming into camp. He succeeded in killing two before getting away.

News is just received of additional killings in the Black range. Families from all the surrounding country are in town. Intense excitement prevails.

FIVE MEN KILLED.

DEMING, N. M., May 28.—Thirty Indians who passed camp Fleming last night killed five men within five miles of Silver City. A company of volunteers from Silver City is in pursuit of the Indians. The military are doing nothing. Intense excitement prevails. The town will be guarded to-night to prevent possible surprise.

TUCSON, May 28.—Star's Silver city special: Captain Madden struck Geronimo's band of Apaches yesterday on the upper Gila and ran them into the mountains where he expected a fight to-day, but the Indians evaded him. Several ranches about eight miles from here have been plundered and destroyed. A family of five Mexicans were killed last night four miles from here. Three children were brained. Another Mexican was shot, but escaped with his wife. This morning George's ranch, two miles from Fort Bayard, was attacked and an American wounded. The Indians are heading for the Black Range. A party of settlers has left here to warn and protect settlers on the Rio Mimbres. Captain Lee, with seventy-five men, took up the trail at noon to-day.

A special from Stein's pass says: Indians have been sighted in a canyon a short distance from here. It is believed they will attempt to go through the pass. Should they do so two companies of cavalry in the immediate vicinity will intercept them.

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Indian Agent Lewellyn, of the Mescalero agency, New Mexico, has telegraphed the Indian bureau as follows: "Apaches under Geronimo are now depredating west of the Rio Grande. Two women of Geronimo's camp came in here to-day. I have confined them in the guard house. Major Vanhorn, commanding at Fort Stanton, is here to-day. The Mescaleros have tendered him 150 men to accompany his troops should hostiles come within striking distance. There are twenty-five bucks of the Victoria band, who have lived here with the Mescaleros for three years. If necessary I will arrest and hold them until the trouble is over. The Mescaleros can be depended upon and will not join the hostiles."

The agent has been instructed not to arrest the Victoria Indians as long as they are peaceable, but to keep them under surveillance.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—From correspondence transmitted by the war department to the Indian bureau it appears that the Apache Indian outbreak was caused by whisky. Indians manufactured large quantities of "tiswin" and became intoxicated. Knowing that punishment would follow this infraction of the rules they abandoned the reservation and went on the war path.

TWO SQUAWS CAPTURED.

FORT STANTON, N. M., May 28.—Two of Geronimo's squaws captured by Indian police, have arrived here. One of them wore five gold rings, evidently taken from victims of the present raid. The squaws tore their hair and wildly lamented their fate. Major Vanhorn is here, and has received an offer from San Juan, chief of the Mescaleros, of 150 warriors, in case the hostiles come east of the Rio Grande river.

DEATH FROM MURDEROUS INJURIES.

SALEM, May 28.—[Special.]—B. Coffey, a farmer, living about three miles from this city, died this morning under suspicious circumstances. It seems that on Sunday last he was in Independence. Late in the evening he hired a man named Mitney to take him across the river in a small boat. On reaching the east side a dispute arose between them as to the compensation for so doing. Mitney recrossed, and returning brought with him two other parties, named Cooper and Lawrence, and the three attacked Coffey with such severity as to bring on brain fever, from the effect of which he died this morning. Coroner Warriner held an inquest to-day, and the jury returned a verdict that death was caused by brain fever brought on evidently by illtreatment received at the hands of Mitney and others. All the assaulting parties had been drinking heavily, which no doubt was the foundation of the whole trouble. Parties from Independence had, on the day previous to the attack, visited Coffey's barn and broke a number of windows in one of his houses, and his visit to Independence was for the purpose of ferreting out the guilty parties. The fact that he displayed considerable money led many to think that an attempt was made to rob him. The parties have been all arrested by Sheriff Minto and already lodged in jail. Their preliminary examination will take place on Monday next. A man who witnessed their attack has been held as an important witness.

CALIFORNIA.

ANOTHER MARRIAGE CONTRACT CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Judge Hastings, who founded the Hastings law college of this city and who lately married Miss Lillian Knust, has filed affidavits with the county clerk of Lake county, California, denying that he was ever married to Mrs. Mary Keller of this city, who since the judge's late marriage says she is his lawful wife. Mrs. Keller claims to have a marriage contract. Judge Hastings in his suit asks the court to compel Mrs. Keller to produce and deliver up the alleged contract, saying that if any such document exists it is a forgery. The case will be tried in the superior court of Lake county.

WHALING BARK LOST.

The United States steamer Thomas Corwin returned to-day from the Arctic, to repair a broken crank pin. She reports that the whaling bark Rainbow about the middle of April, was crushed in the ice and sunk in fifteen minutes. The crew were saved. The vessel was owned by G. N. Bartlett of New Bedford.

THE LOCUSTS.

[Special.]—Report has reached here of serious ravages of locusts in Tehama county. One of the heaviest sufferers is Senator Stanford. The insects have entirely destroyed 500 acres of two year old vines, leaving where each vine had been a fragment not larger than a lead pencil.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

SHOT FIVE TIMES.

SPOKANE FALLS, May 28.—[Special.]—A shooting scrape occurred last evening on Wild Rose prairie, eighteen miles north of here, in which Frank Kemling was shot five times by R. R. Hazard. The affray is the result of ill-feeling that has existed between the parties for some time past. Hazard's wife left him some months ago on account of ill treatment and moved on to an adjoining ranch owned by her brother, who had just died. Kemling was quite friendly with her, and it is presumed that Hazard was jealous. Last evening the parties met at Mrs. Hazard's residence and became involved in a wrangle at once. One word led to another, when Hazard dared Kemling to come over the fence. Kemling accepted the challenge and [illegible] across on Hazard's land, both drew revolvers. Mrs. Hazard states that Kemling did not fire a shot, as he could not make his gun work, and [illegible] the wounded man makes also. [illegible] was [illegible] lead "pumped" into him with rather annoying rapidity, he ran away. The chances are decidedly against Kemling ever recovering. Hazard was arrested and brought to town and will have his preliminary examination this week before Judge Peel.

THE RETURNED NEZ PERCES.

SPOKANE FALLS, May 28.—[Special.]—One hundred and twelve Nez Perce Indians arrived here this morning and were met by the agents of the government and an escort of cavalry from Fort Cœur d'Alene. They were loaded on wagons at once, and started this afternoon for the Colville reservation. The feeling against the return of this band to this section is intense.

SILVER COINAGE.

The national commercial convention at Atlanta, Ga., last week, was held in consequence of suggestions from various quarters that representative business men might confer together and consider the best means to improve the business of the country. As might have been expected there was substantial agreement on most of the subjects which occupied the three days of the convention. Manufacturers and mercantile men generally favor reasonable measures calculated to increase the foreign trade of the United States, and they are unanimous in favor of national bankrupt laws, of a stable currency, and of just and uniform railroad rates. All these questions are to be settled finally by the national legislature, but a thorough and intelligent expression of opinion by practical business men upon them beforehand will aid congress in its labors and influence its action. The resolutions of a voluntary meeting of business men from all parts of the country assembled for the consideration of questions requiring action by congress and affecting business interests have a peculiar directness and force as an expression of public opinion.

Among the most important acts of this convention was its adoption by a large vote after a full and free discussion of a resolution recommending the suspension of silver coinage. The gist of the argument endorsed by this vote was that it was folly for the United States alone to try to maintain silver coinage, that silver and gold could be kept at a steady ratio of value only by the co-operation of the principal commercial nations, and that since this could not now be secured the compulsory coinage of silver by our government only postponed the common agreement by relieving the silver market of some three-fifths of the annual production of the United States. This action was more significant because it shows that the views of moderate men have undergone a decided change in respect to this matter. They were willing to see the experiment embodied in the Bland law fully tried and now that the results are before them they are forming a definite opinion adverse to a continuation of the experiment. Sectionally, too, the vote is of importance, for more than one-half of the southern delegation are found on the side of suspension. The main support of the silver law has heretofore been found in the south and west, and it is from the mint in New Orleans that by far the largest number of silver dollars have been issued.

This declaration of opposition to the further coinage of silver by the business men of the south is the more likely to have its influence because the national administration, now democratic, is known to be strongly in favor of the suspension of coinage, a fact which will tend powerfully to make opposition to silver an essential, or at least an effective element in orthodox democracy. The attitude of the administration is very pronounced, and there has never been a combination of circumstances more favorable to a change in the silver policy of the country since the passage of the Bland law.

The New York Herald more strongly states the view expressed by THE OREGONIAN a few days ago respecting the selfish features of the law of 1878, which are daily becoming more apparent. "When the law was first passed," it says, "the western mine owners raised their price of silver, and were forced to lower it by a threat on the part of the government to make its purchases in the London market, where the quotations were lower. The spirit then evinced by these mine owners has dominated since. They do not allow questions of currency to enter into their calculations. They do not care whether the coins circulate or not. It would fulfil their wishes as well should the government dump the bullion purchased each month into the ocean."

RETURN OF JOSEPH'S PEOPLE

The remnant of Chief Joseph's band of Nez Perces, which for eight years has been in exile in the Indian territory, is now being returned to the Colville and Lapwai reservations. There remain, all told, 241 souls, the greater number being women and children. Of the band designated for Lapwai, only about thirty are able-bodied men, and they were picked out as those whose conduct during the Nez Perce war was least outrageous. All those against whom the people of northern Idaho have special grievance will be sent to Colville.

There has been a great hue and cry about the return of this beggarly handful of "papooses," "klootchmen" and broken-down old men. Those who have spoken for the people have declared them to be in a state of deadly fear for their lives. THE OREGONIAN has not believed these representations. It believes them to be the inventions of interested and selfish men. It credits the people of northern Idaho with better sense and better spirit than to be afraid of the broken, diseased and helpless remnant of a conquered tribe.

But the Indians are now here and THE OREGONIAN makes this prediction, that if there is trouble between the settlers and the returned Nez Perces, the former will be the aggressors and the latter will be the victims. There will be no need of troops on the reservation unless it be to protect the Indians from a few—a very few—vindictive and bloodthirsty men who have insolently declared that they will "shoot on sight" every returned fugitive. It is the Indians who have cause to be afraid.

THE DEFENSE OF PUGET SOUND

Colonel Granville O. Haller, of Seattle, an officer of the army on the retired list, answers the charge that the location of Fort Townsend near the entrance to Puget Sound was "a stupid mistake," by showing that the fort was not established for ocean defense but to protect the early settlers of northwestern Washington from the Indians. Colonel Haller is doubtless right in his historical data but THE OREGONIAN was speaking of Townsend as a defensive fort and and not as military camp. Certainly the maintenance of Fort Townsend in its present location, and for the purpose of coast defence, will be admitted to be "a stupid mistake." Its situation in a sheltered "inside curve" is very pleasant for those who have to live there, but excepting as a barrack, it is as useless as if it were in the depths of the Cascade mountains. Colonel Haller will, we believe, accord with this statement. We are informed that there is a point, or perhaps two points oceanward from the town of Port Townsend, which easily command the ship channel within a range of from three to five miles. There, certainly, defensive works and defensive forces should be stationed. The important towns on Puget sound ought not to be utterly unprotected and within a few hours sailing of a British naval station.

The first through train over the Canadian Pacific railway from Montreal to Winnipeg bearing troops designed for operation against Poundmaker and his band of Indians is ominous of the effect of railroads in settling the Indian question. But it is more significant as an industrial victory, the results of which will last long after that question is settled. This great railway has now been completed to the base of the Rocky mountains, and at last accounts the gap between that point and the Pacific ocean was being closed as rapidly as possible, considering the grave engineering difficulties encountered. They will soon be overcome, and another vast railway line—the longest by far of any—will span the continent.

M. C. O'Byrne and Bishop John J. Keane, in the June number of the North American Review, discuss the question, "What is the Catholic School Policy?" The first of course maintains that its chief end is to make good Catholics—scholarship being an accident or incident. The latter maintains that its object is to prepare children for the duties of this life and for that to come. But the chances are that the formulas of the church receive more attention than that instruction which makes a moral and intelligent citizen. This, however, is not the exclusive peculiarity of the Catholic schools, for all sectarian schools make a point to teach their special faiths. What children need for their guidance in respect to this life, as well as the life to come, is not partisan church history or doctrine, but the broad principles of justice which are common to all creeds. This is becoming every day more apparent to members of the Catholic church in this country. Professor W. H. Payne of Ann Arbor, Michigan, writes that "on one occasion a poor widow brought me her little boy, saying, 'please place this boy in your school. I am bound that this one of my children shall know something beside his catechism, and I do not care what priest and bishop may say about it either.'"

Senator Edmunds says in a letter addressed to an Indian graduate of the Carlisle school: "I shall be glad at the next session to do anything in my power to make a general provision that any Indian who chooses voluntarily and in some formal way to renounce his allegiance to his tribe and assert his desire to become a citizen of the United States, with all its rights and responsibilities, may do so." Such a provision is much needed.

The republicans who object to the appointment of Zach. Montgomery because of his opposition to the American system of public schools, would do well to reflect that he only states the position of the Roman Catholic church, of which he is a devoted member. The Rev. Dr. Burchard's unfortunate allusion to that church just before the presidential election should not pass immediately out of rememberance.

It is stated that the republican senators decided, in their informal caucus at the close of the last session of congress, that, when removals were made during the recess without good and sufficient cause, and simply to satisfy importunate office-seekers, the senate should not allow the appointees to be confirmed.

A rate of 5⅛ cents per bushel for grain from Milwaukee to New York by lake and canal, which is now offered, was never equaled in the history of the grain trade of that city. It shows, in spite of competition between railways, water transportation is the cheapest.

The Worst Cases Completely Restored to Health and Enjoyment of Life.

READ WITH CARE.

The Press, the Pulpit, and the Lecture Room [illegible] on the diseases of the Sexual Organism. A false delicacy withholds a true knowledge in regard to Physiological Laws, and life wrecks shattered by insanity and premature graves fill the world.

Says PROF. W. C. WOODBRIDGE: There is a topic in Physiology which artificial modesty has covered up until a solitary but fearful vice is spreading desolation through our schools and families unchecked and unknown.

[illegible] It is estimated that [illegible] American people [illegible] and eighty females out of every hundred suffer from its effects.

The glassy eye, the pale face, the blue circle under the eyes, the bent figure, the pimpled skin, the irritable and morose disposition and the failing mind all bespeak the effects of this solitary vice. No race, nation or [illegible] exempt from this [illegible] destroying scourge. [illegible]

It fills our Insane Asylum and [illegible] suicide. [illegible] manly and womanly capacity destroyed. [illegible]

First Stage.—Lassitude, Dissipation [illegible] Irritable Temper, Nervousness, Flushing of the Face, Dark Circles under the Eyes, Paleness of the Face and Lips, Pimples or Flesh Worms at night, restlessness, Nocturnal Emissions.

Second Stage.—Inaptitude for Business or Study, Headache, Uneasy Feeling in the Head, Impaired Memory, Difficulty in Calculating Correctly, Melancholy, Irritability, Love of Solitude, Extreme Depression or Nervousness, a Whitish Sediment in Urine.

Third Stage.—More or less Derangement of the System, Intellectual Faculties Weakened, Hypochondriasis, Forgetfulness, Despondency, Irritability, Complexion Sallow, Eyes Sunken, Wasting of the Organs, Unconscious Diurnal Emissions, Frightful Dreams, etc.

Like causes produce like results, modified by the difference in sex and constitution. The increased nervous susceptibility of women exposes them to even more terrible results than men. Nervous Exhaustion is induced with all the above noticed consequences. But in general it is more noticed in the [illegible] Bearing Down, Leucorrhoea, Ulceration, Prolapsus, Irritability, etc., which condition is attended with some of the following results: Pale Face, Dark Circles under the Eyes, Biting Finger Nails, Pimples on Face, Sallow Complexion, Flushes of Heat and Cold, Flushed Face, Forgetful, Nervous, Easily Startled, Muscles Relaxed, Easily Chilled, Easily Put Out, Short Breath, [illegible] of Heart, Drowsiness by Day and Wakefulness at Night.

The Digestion is impaired and the Menstrual Function is disordered in various ways, no desire for [illegible] ability to enjoy life.

We would invite the attention of those of either sex afflicted in this manner to our new and successful method of treating this class of diseases. We guarantee a positive and permanent cure of every case coming under our care and following our instructions and advice.

Parties suffering from any of the above diseases can find immediate and sure relief by calling for the Next 10 Days on

BRIEF MENTION

Warde to-night in Damon and Pythias.

The lecture by [illegible] Bateman at the Y. M. C. A. hall Monday next has been re-called for the present.

Virginia Martin, a notorious woman of the street, was arrested yesterday by Policeman Wing for vagrancy.

The early trip of the Lurline to-morrow will enable persons to witness the parade of thirteen companies at Vancouver, and the 8 15 trip from that place will give an opportunity to attend theaters and other attractions at Portland.

The little Knadel girl, who fractured her skull while sliding down the banisters at the International hotel, died yesterday morning, after two weeks of suffering. The funeral will take place to-day from St. Vincent's hospital.

The Home Social Club will give a moonlight excursion this evening. The steamer Multnomah and barge Cascades have been chartered for the occasion. Good music has been engaged. The boat will start about 8:30 P. M. This will be the excursion of the season.

There being only one form of ticket used for local travel, the regular fare from here to Victoria will hereafter be $11, the steamboat part of the trip being first-class. Passengers, however, need buy tickets here only as far as Tacoma, and there pay for the remainder of the trip, $4, $3 or $1 50, as they choose.

Sheriff T. H. Guthrie of Shoshone county, Idaho, is in the city. He brought down an insane man to the asylum some time ago and has since been out in Coos county, looking for C. Taylor, who is charged with having committed a murder at Murray city. Taylor has relatives and friends in Coos county and the search for him was about as fruitless as hunting for a needle in a haystack.

THE STAGE

WARDE'S "RICHARD III." The role of the crook backed tyrant is not one of the best assumed by Warde, and yet in it he exhibits such a cold, bloodless, vindictive devil of a human, distorted both in mind and body, that his audience fairly hate him and rejoice with Richmond's followers in his death. True to his originality, Warde makes much of certain scenes that other actors have almost neglected. Particularly is this noticeable when he informs Buckingham that he is "not in the giving view," and later when Buckingham is captured and the king shouts "Off with his head!" Better hypocrite never made love to Queen Anne, or deceived the lord mayor of London and a more ferocious warrior never rushed to the battle that ended in his death than the Richard who trod the boards of New Market theater last night. His two best roles, however, are reserved for the last nights. "Damon and Pythias" to-night, "Virginius" to-morrow night, with "Ingomar, the Barbarian," for the matinee.

THE CASINO.—"La Mascot" has drawn fair audiences during the week. To-morrow night Miss Lester will sing, at the request of several members of the G. A. R., "The Star Spangled Banner."

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

DEVELOPING THE YANK LEDGE —A force of men is already at work on the Yank ledge, in Rogue river valley, under direction of H P Macnevin, the gentleman referred to in an item published a few days since as having arrived here furnished with plenty of capital for developing this mine Mr Macnevin is one of the best gold mining experts on this coast and is confident that a brilliant future awaits the Yank ledge This vein of ore is one of the most extensive ever discovered, being 210 feet in width It is cut in two by Rogue river and extends for miles on either side It is situated in the vicinity of the Englishman claim, Galice creek and other well known mines. It has been known for years and ore from it has been worked in San Francisco and Nevada, but owing to its low grade it was not considered profitable to work It is, however, considered that large returns can be had by working the ore by a lately discovered process The ledge contains quartz of every variety and is a regular mineralogical curiosity A cut is being opened across the entire width of the ledge which will show what it really consists of The work is being done by private enterprise No stock has been put on the market, and the work is not a prelude to any swindling racket. Should the development of this ledge prove a success it will be a great thing for the Rogue river country, which will then take rank with the celebrated Comstock district as a mining region

MAIL SERVICE BY STEAMSHIP —A vigorous protest has been circulated here and signed by nearly every merchant and business man in Portland against the order of Second Assistant Postmaster General Knott's discontinuing the mail service between Portland and San Francisco, by steamship, after June 15 No complaints are likely to be heard during the next three months, while the road over the Siskiyou mountains is in good order, and the stages make connection with railroad regularity But when the fall rains begin and stages cannot make time, and the mails get banked up at some of the stage barns, and the roads get worse, and more mails pile up until there is no way out of the trouble—then won't there be a howl! The result will be that the mails will not come, and people who have urgent correspondence will have to use the express companies About the first of November an appeal will go up to the postoffice department to restore the steamship service, and such a move will get through the circumlocution office by the time the roads have become passable the next spring The stage line is a first rate summer line—say four months in the year—but it is a dismal failure for mail transportation in winter The protest will be sent to the postmaster general and if Mr Vilas doesn't listen to it he is no friend of Oregon

THAT FENCE AGAIN —Mrs. Ellen Day's fence, located over in "Goose Hollow," is likely to furnish items until all legal remedies concerning the property in dispute are exhausted Several days ago, Pat Holland destroyed the fence, was arrested and placed under bonds. Mrs Day had the fence rebuilt, and on Wednesday, Mrs Pat Holland and her son James Holland, aged 16 years, destroyed it. They were arrested and taken before Justice Greene, who bound the mother over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1000, and the boy in $100 Pat claims that the fence is on his ground, and bases this claim on a survey made by ex City Surveyor D W Taylor, several years ago The widow claims the fence is on her own ground and bases her claim on a subsequent survey made by City Surveyor Chapman The property in dispute is a strip 18x60 at No 324 Market street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, and it is said Holland is afraid to go to law now because he has "slept too long" on his rights Half the neighborhood was at the scene of the dispute yesterday, they having learned that Holland intended to "jump" the ground by moving a building on it. The neighbors take a deep interest in the dispute and the sentiment of "Goose Hollow" is with the widow by a large majority

FUN RIDING WILD HORSES —Large numbers of horses are being driven out of eastern Oregon and Washington to distant markets. Messrs. Hexter & Newell crossed the Columbia at Alkali on the new steam ferry the other day with a band of 614 horses brought from the Yakima country which they will drive over the trails to Cheyenne, expecting to be four months on the road They had a force of twenty herders and fifty saddle cayuses for them to ride These horses were unbroken and as every day the herders had to change horses there was lots of fun in camp Each man had to catch and ride the horse pointed out to him by the boss. If he could not ride the "bucking cayuse" selected he had the privilege of selling out to some one who could The sight when the order to mount was given in the morning discounted any equestrian display ever seen in Barnum's big circus Such racing and chasing and bucking, stiff legged, as then took place was a caution One agile cayuse carried his rider through a wagon and then leaping on top of a small tent came down inside of it. And besides all the fun they had these horsemen were paid the munificent sum of $1 50 per day And such is life in the great inland empire in this last quarter of the nineteenth century

ORE FROM COLVILLE MINES —Two car loads—40,000 pounds—of silver bearing quartz will arrive here to-day from Spokane Falls, and go by the steamer to-morrow night to the Selby Smelting and Lead Company, San Francisco It is consigned to F A. Moore, the Spokane Falls banker, and was taken from the Old Dominion mine, six miles east of Colville It is all high grade free smelting ore in limestone formation. The ore was hauled to Spokane Falls by McCartney & Co's freighting teams, which have been transporting freight to Colville for shipment by the new steamer Kootenai to the Canadian Pacific. The result of this shipment will probably demonstrate to a certainty whether the ores taken from the Colville mines will bear transportation by team a distance of seventy five miles and rail and steamship transportation to San Francisco It is the opinion among the residents of Colville valley that small smelting works established at Colville will pay liberally on the investment.

THERE WAS A STRING TO IT —A party of typos were out sailing on the river yesterday afternoon, and when near Ross island one of them discovered a beer keg floating in the river He frantically yelled to the steersman to port the helm and lay the boat alongside the keg, saying "Let's get it into the boat, boys we can sell it for a dollar and a half and buy beer for the crowd The necessary nautical maneuvers were performed and at last the prize was within reach The discoverer leaned over the side of the boat and eagerly seized it but a long, strong pull disclosed the fact that it was anchored to the bottom by a wire cable and as no one in the boat had a file or a cold chisel in his pocket, the keg had to be left to do duty as a buoy The laugh the other boys had at their baffled companion consoled them for the loss of the promised beer

INLAND EMPIRE STOCK —George F Watkins and family returned home yesterday from a five weeks visit to the horse and sheep ranch in Rock creek, Gilliam county, in which Mr Watkins is interested He gives a very favorable report of the condition of affairs in that section Sheep have sheared better than usual, it being common for bands to average ten pounds to the fleece The number of colts foaled is less than was expected, owing to the severe weather of last winter The loss of sheep from cold rains which occurred just after the dipping has been large in some bands, but those owned by Mr Watkins escaped with slight loss He says that scab, which was quite prevalent a few years since in Eastern Oregon, has been almost entirely eradicated Parties are buying up sheep to drive off for $1 25 a head, but sheep growers are trying to raise the price to $1 50

REBATE ON SCRAP TIN —By every cannery lies a heap of scrap tin that represents considerable loss to the canners, says the Astorian, especially as they have to pay duty on it. There is a rebate allowed on all the imported tin that goes back again in the shape of cans Some time ago C P Upshur wrote to Hugh McCulloch, secretary of the treasury, and subsequently to General Fairchild, and, after considerable correspondence on the subject, has succeeded in getting a concession, to the effect that hereafter the canners will be allowed a rebate on scrap tin also the intent being that any tin not put into practical use and retained in the country shall be entitled to the rebate heretofore allowed to that tin exported again The result is a direct saving of some $11 on each thousand cases packed—not a very extensive matter, but yet a trifle that might as well be saved to the canners as not.

TUGBOAT COMPANY MEETING —The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portland tug boat company was held yesterday at the bank of Messrs Ladd & Tilton The executive committee reported a satisfactory business for the past year that the schedule of towage charges had been adhered to, and the service at the bar promptly and efficiently performed The committee recommended and the meeting passed a vote of thanks to Captain George C Flavel for the able and efficient manner in which he has discharged the duties of manager at Astoria. The following directors were elected to serve the ensuing year: Messrs H W Corbett, W S. Ladd, D. P. Thompson, Donald Macleay, W. J. Burns, J. R. Cameron and James Laidlaw.

HUMMING BIRDS IN CAPTIVITY —Very few who have watched the dazzling colors and the beautiful motion of humming birds in freedom have ever seen them caged Three good specimens may be seen in the Workingmen's store on North First street, near C They were caught by a farmer, and are confined in a frame eighteen inches square and the same depth, and covered with netting In repose they lose their attractiveness, their heads appearing too large and their tails too short for symmetry One of the prisoners appears reconciled to captivity and sits quietly and gracefully on his perch for hours, while the other two, at the approach of a person, fly about wildly beating against the soft walls of their prison house They live on strained honey, which is in a flat bottle, and is easily taken up by their long bills Yesterday one of the clerks threw into the cage a sprig of honeysuckle and the avidity with which the birds attacked it showed that it must be one of their favorite flowers After one has watched the restless, swift winged creatures, he feels like reaching for his pocket knife and ripping a hole into the netting which confines them Nature did not intend that the humming bird should live under any other roof than the sky

FIREMEN IN THE PROCESSION —It has been arranged with the fire department that No Ones with hose cart No Four and the Hook & Ladder Company, will turn out in the procession to-morrow A general inspection of the fire department and also of the state militia, it is thought, will be had about 5 P M For the fire inspection the big bell will be tapped from box 21, when the companies will issue, as in case of an alarm, and drive to the postoffice. Chief Engineer Morgan has instructed all the companies to take a quiet, steady gait. On reaching the rendezvous, each company will wheel into line and then, at a given signal, pass in review around the block and proceed to their respective quarters The inspection is intended for the whole department and the regular force of firemen The entire inspection will not consume more than twenty minutes, and is for the purpose of affording citizens and visitors an opportunity of seeing the whole paraphernalia of the Portland fire department, as well as testing its promptness and efficiency

DRIED MUSHROOMS. A score of people gathered around a box of some pungent smelling article on the sidewalk in front of Ferrara's yesterday attracted the attention of an OREGONIAN reporter, who crowded in to see what all the fuss was about. The crowd was trying to make out what the stuff was, but after tasting, smelling and examining were obliged to give it up The reporter was appealed to for information and at once pronounced the stuff to be dried mushrooms They were imported from Italy, and one pound of the sliced and dried fungus represents thirty pounds in a fresh state. Many kinds of fungus are used as food by the Italians and these were of quite a different variety from the mushrooms eaten here and must be much more plentiful and cheaper, as the fresh article sells here for [illegible] cents per pound

SHOCKING DEATH —Bernard Coffey, an account of whose death from the effect of ill treatment at the hands of ruffians is published among the dispatches in another column, was a well known and respected citizen of Salem, where he has resided for many years He has delivered THE OREGONIAN to its Salem subscribers for a long time, and was an honest and energetic man. Some years since he purchased the old Pringle place, a short distance south of Salem, which has, it seems, at last proved indirectly the cause of his death He leaves a wife and several sons He will be remembered by all who have attended the state legislature within the past ten or twelve years, and he has many friends throughout the state who will be pained to hear of his shocking taking off

SAD CASE.—Late last evening the attention of police officers Watson and Nash was attracted by sounds of lamentation at No 70 Alder street. The house is occupied by an old lady and her daughter, strangers in the city It appears that several sons of the old lady have gone over to Washington territory to work, one of them leaving an infant with her to be taken care of, his wife thinking it would be safer here than where they were going Last evening the little thing died suddenly of congestion of the lungs, and the aged grandmother was almost wild with grief at its loss The officers called Mrs. French and her daughter, who live near, who at once arose from their beds and proceeded to perform the kindly offices of preparing the little one for burial

GREAT BOOK SALE —The announcement in yesterday's OREGONIAN that W B Ayer & Co would begin the sale of standard books, embracing all branches of literature at reduced prices, attracted considerable attention from careful buyers Many who noted the reduction on works, which were supposed to be inflexible in price—for instance Webster's dictionary—seized the opportunity without delay A sale of this kind is such a rarity that it provokes much favorable comment. When a man wants a book and who does not?) and can get it for one half or two-thirds of what he ordinarily has to pay he buys it hence the rush The sale will be continued nine more days

CONCERNING "THE FOURTH" A mass meeting of citizens is called for Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Masonic hall, to take preliminary steps toward celebration of the coming Fourth of July The matter has been talked over among business men, and there is assurance of enough subscriptions to defray the cost. There was only one question about the matter, viz Who shall have charge of it? In past years the Grand Army of the Republic have taken the lead, and always conducted successful celebrations, and they will probably act this year if invited, and then sustained by citizens A representative attendance at the meeting Tuesday evening is therefore requested

TO ASTORIA AND BACK IN ONE DAY The steamer Lurline has been chartered by the Ladies' Society of Hall street M E church, for an excursion to Astoria, Saturday, June 20 Fare, round trip, $1—no half rates Steamer will leave Alder street wharf at 7 A M, stopping two hours at Astoria, and returning arrive at Portland at 11 P M Refreshments, ice cream, fruit, etc, on board Go by sunlight and return by moonlight Good brass band No dancing Number of tickets limited Secure tickets early Over two hundred miles by steamer for $1 Tickets for sale at Alisky & Baum's

LONELY DEATH —John Greenwood a widower, aged 81 years, who lived alone about six miles from Jefferson, Marion county, was found dead in his bed on Tuesday afternoon last by a little daughter of John Neal, a neighbor, who had called on him The old man was in the habit of making daily visits to Neal's, but failed to call on Monday, and on Tuesday the little girl went over to his house to see what was the matter and found him dead An inquest was held, the jury returning a verdict of death from natural causes

AS ORIGINALLY PLANNED —The result of telegraphic correspondence between the railroad people here and at Omaha elicits the information that the Iowa Press Association have fixed on their running time and will arrive here, as originally intended, about noon on Sunday, the 14th inst Hence they will not be able to visit the Walla Walla country until their return eastward This is all right The practical Iowa people will have as their last recollection of the northwest coast a little the finest wheat field that lies out of doors

FLOWERS FOR MEMORIAL DAY —All persons who have flowers to give will please leave them at G A R hall, First street, this afternoon or to-morrow forenoon, where they will be received by the ladies of George Wright Relief Corps and made up into decorations. Wagons will call for flowers upon those who have left their addresses with the committee mentioned in yesterday's OREGONIAN Flowers in East Portland may be left at Ross hall for use of Sumner post any time this evening or before 10 o'clock to-morrow

THE OAKLEY DIVORCE CASE —The hearing of the amended report of the referee in the Oakley divorce case came up before Judge Stearns yesterday The report gives Mrs Oakley a divorce and awards the husband the custody of their child Mrs Oakley is not satisfied with this and in consequence the attorneys on both sides are reviewing the case at great length before the court Their arguments will be finished to-day

CHINESE LOTTERIES

A Proprietor Arrested Yesterday for Gambling How the Lotteries are Conducted

It is well known that a number of lottery games have been conducted among the Chinese of this city for a long time For some time no effort has been made by the authorities to interfere with them Yesterday, however, Lee Jim, the proprietor of one of these games, was arrested by the police, and the proprietors of the other seven will be arrested forthwith, if practicable Lee Jim gave bonds for his appearance in the sum of $300

These Chinese lotteries are quite extensive affairs, but are chiefly patronized by Chinamen Some white people patronize them, mostly opium fiends. There are two drawings daily—one at 5 P M and the other at 11 P M Those who have occasion to pass through the Chinese quarters about these hours will have noticed a number of Chinamen carrying grip sacks and delivering squares of paper covered with Chinese characters and daubed with splotches of red ink These give the patrons of the game a statement of the drawing The tickets are on sale at many shop windows in Chinatown There are eighty Chinese characters on each ticket The buyer can pay 10 cents or any sum up to $1, or more, for a ticket, his winnings if any, being proportionate The buyer selects ten of the characters on his ticket at pleasure, the same as numbers are chosen by the buyers of tickets in an American lottery The eighty characters in the ticket are also written on eighty separate pieces of paper, which are rolled up and after being mixed are divided and placed in four vases One of these is selected by chance for drawing from, the other three are set aside When the drawing is made the man who has checked off on his ticket some of the characters drawn gets a prize If all the numbers he has checked off are among those drawn he gets a great many times the sum invested If only a few of the numbers checked off are drawn he gets a proportionate sum

Some people imagine that the lottery is honestly conducted but a responsible Chinese merchant informs a reporter of this paper that cheating is practised to as great an extent as in any gambling game It is not certain whether lottery men can be convicted of gambling or not They claim the lotteries are carried on for benevolent purposes "all e same Melican church lottery and grab bag game It is urged by others that many Chinamen lose their money at these games and so are led to stealing and other crimes

Rankin and Miss Eva B Shane was solemnized last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, No 333 Yamhill street in this city, Rev G W Chandler of the Taylor Street M E church officiating The groom has long been connected with the delivery department of THE OREGONIAN, and for over a year has had charge of the routes on the east side His efficiency and industry are attested by his success, the handmaiden of happiness, which he has taken the best means to secure The bride is the accomplished daughter of the well known merchant, Mr T A Shane, possessing a grace and amiability that has attracted to her a large circle of friends The parlors were handsomely decorated with flowers and festoons of evergreens, a floral bell pending over the recess where the ceremony was performed The ceremony was witnessed by the relatives and a few intimate friends, who expressed their congratulations, not only personally, but by handsome and useful presents. A bountiful supper was partaken of, and music and sociability followed until time invited the pleasant sorrow of parting Mr and Mrs Rankin will reside on the corner of Fourth and G streets, East Portland.

BRANCH RAILROADS.

Why the O. R. & N. Co. can not Build the Branches to Pataha and to Moscow—The Settlers's Needs

The residents of the Pataha country, lying east of Riparia and south of Snake river, and of the country lying southeast of Colfax as far as Moscow, Idaho, are very anxious at this time to know whether they will be able to get their grain to market by rail at close of the coming harvest. This is still an unanswered problem, as the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company can not yet decide whether their finances will permit the construction during this summer of the Pataha and Moscow branches, as contemplated at the outset by their plan for ramifying the "Inland Empire" with rail lines It is generally agreed by the officers of the company from the president down that the wheat interests of the two sections imperatively demand outlets, and the officers here have been urging the board of directors to begin construction at the earliest possible date Toward this desired step there is only one drawback The company have no money just now for construction, but it is believed affairs will be so adjusted in a short time that the work can be undertaken and pushed to completion One thing is certain There will be enough traffic to pay a good interest on the investment and traffic will begin the first day the road is opened The proposed lease now "cooking" in New York will not affect the proposed extensions and the chances are nearly even that both branches will be built before January 1, 1886

The Pataha branch will begin at Starbuck, a station nine miles this side of Riparia, and run eastward to a point near Pomeroy, about twenty five miles distant The grading is easy of the entire line, and the estimate of the entire cost is within $16,000 a mile Competent judges who have been over the country this season state that there will be tributary to this branch, if constructed, no less than 40,000 tons of wheat Some of it, in case the line is not built, will go to Snake river landings, and some will be hauled to Dayton, but the bulk is too far from transportation lines to justify a wagon haul, unless the price should be much higher than one can reasonably expect it to be Last year, shortly after harvest, the price at Dayton was thirty five cents a bushel, and at that figure no one could afford to stand the expense of transporting it in wagons So a great deal of the wheat was fed, and the remainder is still in the country If wheat should be a good price say sixty or sixty five cents, this fall a great deal of the crop will find its way to market, but if it should be low, the farmers will have thrown away their year's work unless the road is built. However, the people would be very much relieved if they knew to a positive fact what the future has in store for them The twenty-five miles can be graded easily in ninety days, and by pushing work, in sixty days

The situation in the Moscow country is very much the same, except that twenty of the twenty-six miles, between Colfax and Moscow, have already been graded The bridges are framed, the ties and iron are at the front, most of the piles have been driven, and six miles of the track are now laid so that it would be no trick at all to finish the branch within sixty days after the order is given With the knowledge that both branches will have a large traffic, and that the settlers' financial future depends on their construction, it looks as if the roads must soon be built

Gruner, of the same committee, then submitted an adverse report, which, on motion of Smith, was received and placed on file

City Attorney Harrington made a verbal report concerning the case of the Fifth street bridge over Sullivan's gulch in which the city was recently defeated He stated it was necessary for plaintiffs to prove the bridge had been constructed substantially in conformity with the plans and specifications, and the jury was of the opinion that they had done so A motion for a new trial would be made, but it would be three weeks before this could be done, and he probably would not occupy the position of city attorney at that time. If a new trial was not granted he recommended that an appeal be taken to the supreme court. Since Mr Caton was employed in the case all papers had been turned over to him and he had the management of the case He recommended that his successor examine the bridge thoroughly, so as to determine its variance with the plans and specifications.

DECORATION DAY AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, W T, May 27

The members of Ellsworth Post, G A R., of Vancouver, are fully determined to make this year's Decoration day one of the grandest ever witnessed in this city, especially since it has become highly probable that one of the nation's most distinguished statesmen, Senator Sherman, will be the guest of General Miles on that day A committee was appointed to wait on General Miles, U S A, and to ask his assistance and secure the co-operation of the U S troops, stationed at the barracks, the department staff, one whole regiment of infantry and a light battery of the First artillery The general, in his usual whole souled manner, at once promised to do all he could to make the day a memorable one to all who should happen to be eye-witnesses to it. With his assistance a programme was determined upon, which includes a parade of the troops and memorial exercises at the city park. The Hon. H Y Thompson of Portland will be the speaker of the day, and appropriate music, both vocal and instrumental, will be rendered by the Fourteenth infantry and city bands and other local talent.

Many Portlanders have probably never seen a whole regiment of regulars congregated at one point and this sight alone would be worth witnessing On such a day and at this season of the year when everything is in bloom and the fragrance of flowers fills the air, a trip to our city is one of the most enjoyable excursions to any Portlander, and with the splendid road now connecting the two points, we feel confident that many tired city people will take advantage of this opportunity and visit our pretty little town

VANCOUVER ITEMS

VANCOUVER, May 28

General Milroy, the old "white eagle" has the sympathies of every old soldier and his manly answer to the request for his resignation has the old man's ring, and the G. A. R boys say stand fast.

Wednesday evening Colonel Hunt had the full regiment, Fourteenth infantry out on battalion drill and they did some fine wheeling and marching General Miles was viewing them from the band stand and was very much pleased to witness their excellent evolutions

City Marshal Bone is causing our streets to be cleaned and put in lawful order. If he will compel parties to abate the old stench nuisance—the great hole in the rear of the Exchange hotel, extending to the Columbia—and fill it, he will deserve the thanks of every taxpayer Fill it, bridge and sewer it.

In view of the present rate of taxation of our people for sidewalk and street improvements where such are not necessary and withholding improvements where they would do the most good, more and better walks should be made to our county court house, situated as it is off to one side of town, away from the business center Some of our citizens are also discussing the desirability of having our drinking water and lights furnished by the city Mr Geoghegan calls attention of citizens to the necessity of immediate action. It is a timely suggestion, in view of the recent contest before the county commissioners by our present water company

But few articles have reached such a world wide reputation as Angostura bitters For over 50 years that they have been the acknowledged standard regulators of the digestive organs. Their success has incited imitations Be sure you get the genuine article manufactured only by Dr J G B. Siegert & Sons

To much effort cannot be made to bring to the attention of suffering womanhood the great value of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the diseases of women and perhaps nothing is more effectual than the testimony of those who have been cured by it Such an one is the wife of General Barringer of Winston N C and we quote from the general's letter as follows

Dear Mrs Pinkham Please allow me to add my testimony to the most excellent medicinal qualities of your Vegetable Compound Mrs Barringer was treated for several years for what the physicians called Leucorrhea and Prolapsus Uteri combined I sent her to Richmond, Va. where she remained for six months under the treatment of an eminent physician without any permanent benefit She was induced to try your medicine and after a reasonable time commenced to improve and is now able to attend to her business and considers herself fully relieved General Barringer is the proprietor of the American Hotel Winston N C and is widely known
